

THIRD-PARTY SERVICES

The website may integrate services provided by third parties, including maps, analytics, social media platforms, payment gateways or communication services. Use of such third-party services may also be governed by the respective provider's terms and privacy practices. HKMC is not responsible for an independent third party's systems or policies except to the extent responsibility is imposed on HKMC under applicable law.

CHANGES TO WEBSITE POLICIES

HKMC may update these Website Policies periodically to reflect changes in business practices, website functionality or applicable legal/regulatory requirements. The latest version and effective date should be displayed on the website. Material changes affecting personal-data processing should be communicated as required by applicable law.
